Conrad, Lemon Grove Mortuary; John Farley, local businessman; Harmon Russell, Russell's Plumbing and Jack Durham, Insurance agent. According to Johnson, the building is scheduled for completion in the latter part of December. Ceremony took place June 14 as work commenced.

Weapon Charge Jails S.V. Man

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — George Albert Roberts, 36, 3704 Lamar st., Spring Valley, was ordered to state prison Wednesday for receiving stolen property and carrying a concealed weapon by a felon. He was convicted at a jury trial of selling a stolen shotgun at the Make Belive Bar in Casa de Oro.

Superior Court Judge Gerald C. Thomas imposed the sentence.

Roberts had already been in prison three times, twice for car theft and once for parole violation.

According to the probation report, sheriff's officers believed that Roberts committed a series of burglaries in the neighborhood where he lived.

Missing Antenna Case Solved

The antenna, all 20 feet of it, reported as stolen from the roof of Mrs. Kathryn Lear's home, 8315 Broadway, was not stolen at all, but replaced with another antenna, higher yet, on the other side of the house, by her landlord.

Record Increase In Nation's Crime Reported By FBI

Serious crime, in the United States, is up 20 percent the first three months of this year over the same period a year ago, according to the FBI's uniform crime report released this week by Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the increase was the sharpest recorded since quarterly reports began in 1958. The increase is in all categories of offenses, he said.

Hoover reported that crimes of violence increased 21 percent with murder up 23 percent, forcible rape 8 percent, robbery 32 percent, and aggravated assault 15 percent.

Crimes against property are up 20 percent with burglary up 21 percent, larceny over $50 in value 18 percent and auto theft 20 percent.

OLDEST — Byron Netzley, right, Lemon Grove Elementary school superintendent was a proclaimed the county's "oldest" superintendent in point of service last week. Dr. Cecil D. Hardesty, left, who came to help honor Netzley, reminded members of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club that Netzley had served the district for 25 years. The distinction came to him when the superintendent in Julian retired recently. Netzley was awarded a gold plaque by the Kiwanis for "25 years of personal and professional service." He is a charter member of the club and a former president.

Tax Rate Rise Of 10-25¢ Seen

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A little over $2 million was cut from the $145.5 million county budget Friday by the County Board of Supervisors—a cut that will mean 10 cents less on the tax rate.

The budget was adopted after 3 1/2 hours of discussion although the board had said it was willing to meet on into the evening if necessary.

Many of the cuts were a foregone conclusion and came with unanimous approval.

Others were contested among the board members but at no time did the meeting become acrimonious.

The budget now stands at $143,378,397, far above last year's $124,045,32. Chief Administrative Officer T. M. Heggland has predicted a substantial tax increase from the present of $2.33-per-$100-of-assessed-valuation rate.

He says the raise could vary from 10 to 25 cents. This raise includes an increase in the assessed valuation of about 9 percent already figured in.

Some of the cuts include $100,000 for general plans; $161,000 for Gillespie Field drainage; $64,000 wildfire protection; $400,000 addition to the County Center, and $225,000 for air conditioning the County Courthouse.

Unrealistically, the $164,000 was cut from 83 empty positions which might not have been filled in any event.

SD Night Court Signed Into Law

San Diego will have a night court at least one night a week. The law, signed by Governor Reagan June 13, goes into effect after the close of the legislature, which is still an uncertain date.

The bill was sponsored by Wadie Deddeh, 77th District. San Diego thus becomes only the third county in the state of California to have municipal courts open at night.

Deddeh introduced his bill on February 8.

"I am especially pleased to have this bill become law, because it extends the democratic process," Deddeh said. "The person who could not plead a reasonable case because the cost would exceed his lost earnings or the person compelled to appear who must at ready face possible punishment for his citation is now able to participate," Deddeh explained.

"I look at the night court law as a way of protecting majority rights," that is, those of the everyday working man," the Chula Vista assemblyman observed.

A Friend Can Wreck Your Life

Friendship, often, is no stronger than the insurance policy the friend carries.

And even that is often weakened by current law. Let us make a point.

You are riding as a passenger in a friend's car.

Due to his negligence, there is an accident and you break your arm.

Do you have a right to sue your friend?

Can you collect damages if you do?

These questions are stirring up considerable controversy.

Much of the insurance industry says no, except under certain circumstances.

These circumstances would require proof that the driver was intoxicated or was guilty of wilful and wanton misconduct.

Even then you may not have a good case, if you tolerated the driver's misconduct.

Many attorneys, however, according to a recent study by the Bank of America NT&SA, maintain that the guest should have the right to sue the driver.

They argue that the passenger, without that right, is denied due process of law.

The so-called "guest statutes" they say, are the state laws that limit a driver's liability toward guests in his car. In general, a guest is a rider who does not pay a fare to the driver or otherwise compensate him for his transportation.

California is among 27 states that now has such guest laws on its books. These discourage friendly lawsuits contrived by drivers and passengers to collect cash from insurance companies. Opponents of guest statutes are arguing that such restrictions obstruct justified claims for indemnification by accident victims.

Paying passengers are not covered by the guest laws, but often the courts have drawn the distinction between a commercial rider and a guest. For instance, if you go on a trip and agree to share expenses, are you a passenger or a guest? Courts have ruled both ways.

With the guest law on the books in California, what can you do to protect yourself either as the driver or the passenger?

As a car-owner you can add medical payments coverage to your auto policy. It will not compensate injured guests for their suffering, but it will pay part or all of their medical bills.

As a passenger accepting a free ride from a friend you accept a greater degree of personal risk than if you paid a fare.

Guest statutes offer no protection from irresponsible motorists. These motorists can only be used if their misconduct can be proven and, in some circumstances, it can be shown that the guest did not tolerate that irresponsibility.

For your own sake, you should not hesitate to caution any driver who starts taking chances with your life, no matter how reluctant you may feel about admonishing a friend.

While this may not be a prescription for keeping friends, the warning may embarrass the driver into driving safely.

If there is an accident, the warning may be sufficient grounds for a court to find the driver guilty of wanton misconduct and award you damages.

Russian Missiles For Aqaba

Now that fighting has ceased in the Middle East and Israel has won its no-nonsense war, we can more dispassionately ask the question that has bothered us for many weeks.

Would there have been Russian missiles in Cuba if Cuba were located in the Gulf of Aqaba instead of in the Caribbean?

Something For Nothing?

Trading stamp people have put up such a strong fight against each other that the patron has almost become the forgotten soul.

In a long line in a local market's check-out station a woman complained. "I wish you'd take the trading stamp money and hire another check-out clerk."

Without knowing it, she had refuted the stamp people's argument that "you can have something for nothing."

Dawsey Calls For Pay For School Trustees

More than 100 persons attended a fund-raising dinner for William Dawsey Saturday night at the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist church.

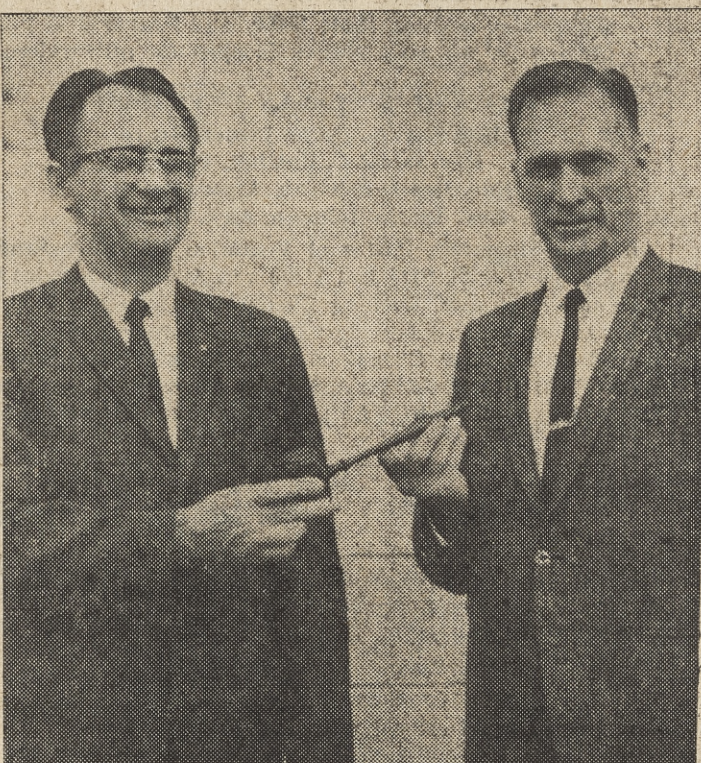

He was an unsuccessful candidate for Grossmont Union High School District trustee—narrowly being defeated by two incumbents.

Dawsey did not say he would enter the race again. The next election is two years away. The dinner raised $250; about half of the remaining debt.

In giving a "report" to his supporters, he called for "dropping the pretense of non-partisan ship in school board elections." Dawsey claims that political partisanship was very real and very effective in the 1967 high school board election. He charged that the League of Women Voters violated their own rules of conduct when the League allowed his opponent to make charges against him and granted him permission to leave without exposing himself to questions.

Dawsey also recommended pay for trustees "perhaps $50 a meeting." Restricting board members to two 4-year terms, and more careful evaluation of the teaching methods of teachers. He said students are indoctrinated with the teacher's philosophy although in the textbooks and by the the philosophy might not be books, he assigned to be read.

IT'S ROTARY — Presidency of the Lemon Grove Rotary club changes July 1 but the ceremonial part took place last week at a banquet at Mission Valley Inn. Willey Cornelius, principal of Mt. Vernon school hands the gavel to John Penery, director of Inter-American Education Foundation as Cornelius' term ends. The club meets Monday at noon at Bowlero.

SV Crime Committee Hears SOC Chairman

Spring Valley's Citizens Committee Against Crime heard Ray T. Blair Jr., of the Stamp Out Crime crusade, Tuesday night at their meeting at the Spring Valley Junior High School.

Blair is also assistant to the general manager of General Dynamic's Astronautics Division. He quoted letters from San Diego Police Chief Wesley Sharp and Sheriff Joe O'Connor to show that "citizens now realize that they must become involved if we are to win the never-ending battle against crime."

Both officials noted a "significant change in public attitude toward crime, and many citizens are helping officers in their work," Blair said.

The Stamp Out Crime crusade was organized in July 1965. The Citizens Committee Against Crime is a new organization stemming from the increase in juvenile crime in the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area.

Rosa Amador Vasquez, 20, of 9715 Ivanhoe st., Spring

Valley was treated at County-University Hospital with a knife wound across her abdomen. She was also beaten about the head, investigators reported.

Miss Vasquez was babysitting at the time of the attack.

Always and Everywhere

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is far more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

CWA OKs Budget

SAN DIEGO, June 14 — The San Diego County Water Authority last week approved a $9,996,505.59 budget.

While the total budget figure is $12 million over that for the preceding twelve-month period, it has been established in anticipation of no need for increasing taxes when the new tax rate is set in August.

Arthur Wells, chairman of the CWA finance committee, said that it appears that the Authority can operate through the coming year without upping the water tax rate from the present 11c per $100 assessed valuation which has been in effect since 1960.

SD Zoo Gets Cape Buffalo

A trio of African Cape Buffalo, considered one of the most dangerous of all game animals, arrived at the San Diego Zoo, along with several rare companions, a pair of White-tailed Gnu.

The shipment, which the zoo said weighed nearly three tons, was flown to Los Angeles from Africa via New York and trucked here.

The African Buffalo, a male and two female, are juveniles weighing about 400 to 500 pounds. They were captured in Africa in their home territory, south of the Sahara Desert.

White-tailed Gnu are extinct in the wild, according to Dr. George Pournelle, curator of animals. They are maintained only in game preserves and zoos.

Free Press Advocate Speaks To Journalist

Michell L. Lanthrop, a Los Angeles County deputy counsel, noted for advocating a free press will speak at the annual San Diego County Press Awards banquet.

Lanthrop led the fight for a writ to stop the issuance of an injunction which would ban the release of certain information to the press in all cases in the period between the arrest and arraignment of an accused criminal. The case is under advisement.

Lanthrop, in arguing the case against attorneys of the American Civil Liberties Union, likened such an injunction "to the use of a meat cleaver when a surgeon's scalpel would be more appropriate."

Lanthrop's appearance will be a highlight of a dinner meeting in Torrey Pines Inn at which winners of the press awards will be announced.

Non-metropolitan newspapers published in the county are competing for top recognition in seven categories. The competitive areas and sponsors of the awards are:

Contribution to Freedom of Information, San Diego Professional Chapter, Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society; Contribution to Education, San Diego State College Campus Chapter, Sigma Delta Chi; Youth Service, San Diego Public Relations Club; Best Editorial, Phillips-Ramsey, Inc., Advertising; Best News Story, Barnes-Champ Advertising; Outstanding Promotion of an Athletic Program, The Breitbard Foundation; and Community Service, Barnes-Champ Advertising.

The awards competition and banquet are sponsored by San Diego Professional Chapter, Sigma Delta Chi, composed of approximately 250 newsmen of all county media. The society undertook sponsorship in agreement with the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, which conducted it from 1950 to 1964. This year's awards will be based on material published in 1965 and 1966.

The chamber will be hosts at a reception preceding the dinner and ceremonies, to which the public is invited.

It is time the American people remembered their heritage. The pioneer would not let the Indian run him out of his home, take over his business or assault his family. Why should they allow a minority, black, white, or red, to do it now?

Educational Television Premiers In SD Sunday

Educational television comes to San Diego County on Sunday.

KEBS-TV, Channel 15, the million-watt station licensed to San Diego State, will take the air Sunday morning. Highlighting its opening day will be "Our World," a two-hour, live, round-the-world program involving eighteen nations using three communications satellites. The broadcast begins at noon.

Following the opening program, at 2 p.m. Sunday, local dignitaries will appear in an inaugural program originating live from a reception to be held in the station's main studio.

Station facilities have been serving the public schools since January, but pending the construction of Channel 15, the instructional programs were broadcast under a lease arrangement with Channel 39. San Diego's commercial UHF station. The instructional service switched to Channel 15 for a test week beginning June 12.

During its opening week of programming for adults, the station will offer such diverse fare as a special with Peter Ustinov; the well-known Julia Child, "The French Chef," an hour with soprano Joan Sutherland; the widely acclaimed documentary "A Time for Burning"; the N.E.T. Playhouse production of Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya," with Sir Lawrence Olivier; and, for leisure-time artists, T. Mikami's series, "Japanese Brush Painting."

According to Bradford B. Warner, the station's Program Director, the summer-through Friday. In the fall, Channel 15 will add programs for schools during the day and will begin broadcasting on time schedule will be from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m., Monday-Sunday.

The station was made possible by a cooperative effort between the College and the schools of San Diego County. Malcolm A. Love, president of San Diego State, stressed the fact that the station is intended to serve the entire San Diego community. "Our intention is to provide a broadly based community resource," he declared last week. "We are delighted that San Diego State can provide a solid base of operation for Channel 15, and we look forward to the full involvement of many other agencies in the San Diego area."

General Manager of KEBS-TV and its companion station, KEBS-FM, is John P. Witherpoon. The station's Chief Engineer, John C. Merino, designed the technical facility and supervised construction.

Parking Tests To Continue Optometric Society Told

Eye examinations and corrective lenses can aid in reducing highway accidents, Keith Ball, Chief of Field Office Operations Department of Motor Vehicles told members of the San Diego County Optometric Society Tuesday night at a dinner meeting at Caramoran Hotel. It was the society's annual motorist vision meeting.

He also touched on the problems facing senior citizens when they take drivers' tests. "We are not going to discontinue the parking test," he said. "Many elderly people complain that parking hasn't anything to do with driving—but it does. It tells the inspector a great deal. The steering wheel, the gas and the foot brake pedals, all tools of the driving art, must be coordinated for parking."

Rus Walton, special assistant to Secretary of Transportation for Traffic Safety told the group that 38 percent of those who fail tests continue to drive and that 67 percent of those whose licenses are suspended continue to drive without a valid permit. These people contribute to the roadway hazard, he added.

Dr. Calvin Nicholl, a Lemon Grove optometrist was host to a contingent of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley professional people interested in highway safety.

Hardison's Telespanish

The Spanish word "direccion" looks like it should mean "direction" in English. It does. However, that is not the most common meaning. "Direccion" also means "address" when used in ordinary conversation. As in the expression "Cual es su direccion?" the meaning is clearly translated "What is your address?"

Pronunciation of "direccion" requires some additional consideration. You will note that the last syllable is stressed in this word. Thus, a written-in accent is placed over the "o" and the word is phonetically pronounced "dee-rehk-see-OHN." Normally Spanish words are accented on the next-to-the-last syllable, "Direccion" is one of the exceptions.

When a "direccion" (address) is given, the practice in Spanish-speaking countries is to place the street name first and the street number last. One might say "Mi direccion es Calle Morena No. 1010." In this case you will not that the street number comes after the street name. The same expression in English would be "My address is 1010 Morena Street."

Today's practice phrases have examples using the word "direccion." Read over the expressions carefully and pronounce them from the phone tic guide provided. Then dia- 276-2762 on your telephone where you may practice say- ing the same expressions. The recorded voice will pause be- tween each word and each ex- pression giving enough time for you to practice saying the same words and expressions.

Beat Hamilton Battle Surges At Cajon Speedway

Friday night at Cajon Speed- way looms as a battle to beat Don Hamilton of El Cajon. The young speedster is lead- ing the San Diego Racing As- sociation point standings and has three wins in the first six meets. With four races can- celled out by rain points be- come even more important in the championship race.

1966 champion Jack Clegg is trailing badly and has yet to win a 30 lap main event. Close in points with Clegg is Ed Hale of Santee, 1966 rookie of the year and a real threat to a Hamilton win. Last week he was stopped by Dave Halls flipping car and lost out in the race after starting on the pole. Hale has won one and been near the top in the big ones.

Veteran Don Ray of Ramona has proved that he can stay with the best of them when his car is running in top form. Don Zimmerman and Tink Elenburg veterans of many racing wars have not shown that they had the extra drive to stay with the W.D. Bass Chevy piloted by Hamil- ton.

A consistent winner in out of town meets Lee Robison of Spring Valley has been having his troubles on the local oval. Bob Hogle of Buena Park has also been a big winner at other tracks but as yet has not reached his usual local form.

Figure 8 cars have been providing plenty of action with their first intersections crash last week. Don Crager set new 1 lap record of 31.31 as Peters won.
